Myron Williams is the President and CEO of the independent gospel label, Flow Records which produced highly successful projects such as A Piece of My Passion, Gospel Goes Classical, Made to Worship, and the latest offering More Passion. Known as one of gospel music's most sought after producers, his distinctive sound and writing style has placed Flow Record's projects at the top of the Billboard Charts since its inception over 4 years ago.

Williams, long time Music Director for Juanita Bynum Ministries, is credited with the music and sound fans of Flow Records have grown to love. A renowned worship and praise leader, he found a way to harness the power and intensity of a praise service and capture the feeling on a track. This is why his production and writing skills are utilized by some of gospel music's biggest recording artist including T.D. Jakes, Kim Burrell, Marvin Sapp, DFW Mass Choir, Karen Clark-Sheard, and former Flow Records artist Juanita Bynum of which he produced 7 chart topping CD's.

A successful recording artist in his own right, Williams first release on Flow Records Made to Worship debuted at #9 on the Billboard Gospel Charts, and stayed in the top 10 for several weeks. His highly anticipated follow-up will be released this Fall, with the first single hitting radio in August.

Williams originally entered the industry as a member of MDM & Voices, with brother Demarcus more than 10 years ago. They became favorites on local gospel radio programs in the Dallas/Ft. Worth area. His big break came when he recorded the lead on the single "When My Season Comes," which was on the Grammy Award winning project by Potter's House. From that point his gift as a vocalist, producer, and writer has been in demand.

A loving father, husband and spiritual mentor too many, Williams resides in the Dallas/Ft Worth area.

“Myron Williams has used his tremendous gifts and talents to help so many for so long. It is rewarding to know that he will now step from the shadows into the light as he carries his marvelous ministry forward. The release of this project will place him front and center where impactful praise and worship music is needed - on radio, in sanctuaries, on iPods or personal cd players,” said Donna Creer, KHLR – 94.9 Little Rock.

HIS TESTIMONY

Why am I thankful? Because God chose me when man would not! He was my refuge when others thought I was not fit to bear witness to HIS abilities. I can't say that I haven't made mistakes but my mistakes have turned into testimonies of God's grace, mercy, and restoration.

I have always been aware of the musical gift God gave to me; however, I did not know the power of it and how quickly the enemy would begin to attack it.

I think back to a mistake that would forever impact my life and ministry. I was playing for churches and church events all across the country and did it well. I was very into God and leading his people into places of praise. Pastors, evangelist, and artist of "the circle" loved my gift and as I began to grow in God I also grew as a young man with young man ambitions. I became involved in a relationship that led to a pregnancy out of wedlock. The old traditional way I was taught was if I impregnated someone, I had to go before the church and ask them for forgiveness. I know many musicians that stopped at this point because it just didn't seem right having to do this in front of a congregation that probably had done worse things! Well, I did it. I did what the people wanted me to do. I apologized to the congregation but there was still emptiness inside.

I didn't let that act or the pregnancy stop me from singing and playing the instruments; however, word began to travel around about my sinful announcement. Pastors, ministers, and people I use to play with stopped calling me to minister.

They made me feel like I committed the worst sin ever. I felt myself being pushed to a dark place but little did I know it was God taking me from that environment so that I could really know HIM. I remember joining in with my brother to minister with his group. I started writing and rearranging music and I remember God taking my ministry to a point of forgiveness and saying yes to his will. When I began to apply my yes to God's will of having a relationship with HIM, he began to pour out creativity that would be recognized by people who really were favorable towards my destiny.

Through this experience several things happened to me. I realized that He made me to worship and bring restoration back to the body of Christ. God used me to minister and encourage young people who have experienced some type of people let down because of their mistakes. God blessed me to walk into favored situations with the music industry and Kingdom. God turned what seemed to be a bad mistake to religious people into the most awesome family which is my son London, and I married my beautiful wife of 13 years Michelle.

Now I understand why I had to experience this at an early age. It was because God's plan was bigger than what I was a part of and sometimes he allows you to experience thing to learn what not to do when representing him. My vow is to make sure I try and reach out to those who have ever felt outcast by people because of a sin they didn't die for. Jesus brings restoration to man as they repent to him. He has restored me; many times, and for this I am thankful. Thankful for his faithfulness through out the years!
